

FASEB Excellence in Science Award – Lifetime Achievement

- Recognizes career efforts of Established Investigators in biological and biomedical research
 - Scientific achievements including landmark discoveries, high impact publications, and scientific leadership
 - Training of students and postdoctoral fellows, including impact on careers and teaching efforts
 - Contributions to the broader scientific community, such as leadership in professional organizations, university service and leadership, and public outreach
- Nomination Package:
 - Nomination letter from member of FASEB society
 - Nominee's complete CV
 - Five publications demonstrating most significant scientific contributions
 - Three letters of support from nominee's peers illustrating impact on the field
 - Three letters of recommendation from trainees illustrating mentorship and impact on careers
- Award:
 - $10,000 unrestricted research grant
 - Presentation of a special Excellence in Science Award lecture at annual meeting of FASEB member society of awardee's choice
 - Registration, travel, and up to two nights hotel associated with presentation of award lecture