

Advocacy in Your Backyard: How Scientists Can Make a Difference

WEBINAR

When:

Thursday, August 3rd | 2 p.m. EST

Presenters:

Jennifer Zeitzer

Director of Legislative Affairs

Benjamin Krinsky

Senior Legislative Affairs Officer

Click Here to RSVP

You must RSVP by Tuesday, August 1st to participate in the webinar

Members of Congress will be in their home states and districts in August. When legislators return to Washington in September, they will resume work on the 2018 budget for the National Institutes of Health, National Science Foundation, and other research agencies. The congressional break provides a great opportunity for advocates to reach out to their elected officials. This webinar will provide an update on the status of the budget discussions on Capitol Hill, review new tools and materials available from FASEB, and offer tips on how to get other scientists engaged in advocacy.

Learn what you can do at home

- Visiting with your Senators/Representative
- Attend a town hall meeting
- Using social media to speak out about research funding

Discover FASEB advocacy resources

- Factsheets with amount of research funding in your state & district
- New slides about the value of biomedical research
- Talking points about research funding

Questions? Contact Jennifer Zeitzer at jzeitzer@faseb.org