

Acute Kidney Science Research Conference Travel Award Information

The AKI bench to bedside conference supports the participation of students, postdoctoral trainees, fellows, instructors and mentored junior faculty at the FASEB AKI conference by providing full or partial complimentary registration as well as the opportunity to present at the meeting to those who are selected based on their abstract submissions.

How to apply: Submit (1) an abstract (Title, Authors, Institution, body of abstract) and (2) a letter of intent “I am applying for the AKI bench to bedside conference award to attend the 2nd FASEB AKI bench to bedside conference. This application is approved by my mentor (Mentor’s name, Title, and Mentor’s contact information with email address). I also attest that I will be attending the conference for at least 3 days. If my circumstances change, and I cannot attend the event for at least 3 days, I will immediately notify the Fund Committee (SRCTrainee@faseb.org)”. The letter of intent should be signed by the applicant.

Complete applications should be emailed to Karen.j.thompson@vumc.org and mark.de.caestecker@vumc.org. The deadline: the applications should be received on or before April 25th, 2022, to allow for timely review of applications. Applicants will be notified of the decision by May 2nd, 2022. The awardees will receive full or partial complimentary registration and will have to cover their own travel and lodging costs. Feel free to reach out the conference chair, Mark de Caestecker, if you have questions about the awards, timing etc.